MONTHLY ACCOUNTS.

Commencing on Jan. 1st, '97, all accounts due the BULLETIN for printing and advertising will be rendered monthly instead of quarterly, as heretofore. The BULLETIN has to meet its expenses either at sight, weekly, or monthly at furthest. This being the case quarterly accounts are a considerable strain on the financial resources of this journal. The publisher believes that the public can be better served if the finances of the paper are kept well together by the prompt rendering and payment of accounts.

THE MANDAMENT.

The bishops of Quebec city district of Quebec province were making history when on Dec. 27th, they caused to be read in the churches of their several dioceses, the declaration that any persons who read L'Electeur newspaper would have the gate of heaven locked against them. The objection to L'Electeur was not that its teaching was in itself impious or immoral, or tending to impiety or immorality. It was distinctly because L'Electeur declined to support the views expressed by the bishops concerned regarding the political question known as the Manitoba school settlement. Whatever may be said as to the merits of the settlement or the methods of presenting those alleged merits by L'Electeur there can be no doubt that its arguments tended to the support of constituted authority, and to induce good will as between the several provinces and religious faiths of the country. It is not alleged even that L'Electeur presented its arguments improperly, or in a manner to prejudice the public good. The charge simply is that it expressed opinions on an important and purely political question contrary to those of the bishops; therefore those who read the paper were to be adjudged guilty of mortal sin. This means that the bishops who signed the mandament do not propose to allow the members of their respective flocks to exercise their right of private judgment as to the political affairs of the country. Under such circumstances the form of popular government which we enjoy and prize becomes a mockery, and every man who values free speech and free institutions must range himself against such an attempted usurpation of authority.

This is not a matter which concerns only the Catholic electors of the part of the province of Quebec, which is directly affected. It is the boast of the Roman Catholic church that its ecclesiastical power is one and indivisible. Members of that church and all the electors of Canada will wait with deepest interest to see if this radical departure from all custom and tradition in free Canada will be supported by the power and authority of the whole church. Any action which assumes to deprive a third of the electors of the Dominion of the right of private judgment on a political question touches the very foundation of our institutions, and if successful breaks those foundations completely away. An elective form of government in which the electors have not the right of free choice of principles or leaders is tyranny of the rankiest kind, and must be resented as such.

But there is a religious as well as a political side to this question. It touches not only the religious views of the Catholic minority, but also those of the Protestant majority. It is a delusion which seems prevalent with some of the dignitaries of the Roman Catholic church that Protestants in name are at best merely agnostics or at worst atheists at heart. That they have no fixed views in matters of conscience, and therefore they are not expected to look at the matters of conscience discussed between the Roman Catholic church and its members with more than a passing interest. It might be well that this illusion should be dissolved at this particular juncture. Admitting for the sake of argument that Protestantism is a mistake, or even that it is a crime, it represents the protest of conscience on the part of its founders and present adherents against exactly such assumption of divine authority by human agency as has been assumed by the Quebec bishops in the case of L'Electeur. This being the case—and it is the case—the attack of the bishops is not only a blow at the foundation of our political institutions, but it is a blow at the very foundation of Protestantism itself. Not directly it is true, and yet directly enough to make the protection which Protestants have supposed was guaranteed to them and theirs in our political institutions, only a farce. Catholics are struck; but it is the civil and religious liberty which was proudly supposed to be guaranteed by Protestant supremacy throughout British dominions that is struck at. The action of the bishops is an invasion of what Protestants consider the inherent rights of man. And it is absolutely necessary that those who so believe should show a firm and united front, not to incite, but to repress, sectionalism and prejudice, which would make the free government of this country impossible.

GOLD DREDGING.

J. S. Mullin, M. C. Cook, and Dr. Kelly, of Omaha, Nebraska, and C. A. Loveland, of Plattville, Wisconsin, visited Edmonton last week. These gentlemen are organizing a gold dredging company, to work on the Saskatchewan during the coming summer. One of the party remains here, the others return to Omaha to arrange at once for the shipment of the machinery. The machinery which they will use will be of a kind never before used in Canada and not manufactured here. As their attempt is entirely experimental, which, if successful, will result in a tremendous development on the Saskatchewan, Athabasca, McLeod, Peace and Liard rivers, they are asking that the 35 per cent. duty be remitted. In making this request they will have the strong support of this part of the Northwest. The richest of the deposits are worked out, and what remains can only be worked profitably by machinery. Many attempts at providing machines to work the gold bearing gravels have been made, but so far none of them have been fully successful. The introduction of a really successful machine would mean a great deal to the development of this country, and should certainly be encouraged where the encouragement would not cost the government anything. For the enterprising investors can scarcely be expected to pay an extra third for the privilege of making an experiment for the benefit of Canada.

FRIENDS OF THE WEST?

The Montreal Gazette in commenting adversely on the BULLETIN's remarks regarding the proposed dismissal of the deputy minister of interior takes the position that inasmuch as Mr. Burgess' policy was obnoxious to the West it must have been advantageous to the East. And on the other hand that if his policy is replaced by action according to the wishes of the West, the country—that is to say the East—will suffer. Previous to and during the last general election it was dinned into the ears of the electors of the West that in the conservative party and its leaders lay the only hope of the West securing justice and attaining progress. Their attention is now respectfully drawn to the position towards the West taken by the leading conservative paper in the leading city of the Dominion. In view of the utterances of the Gazette the people of the West will agree that they did not change masters too soon, and the greater the change the better.

THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS.

Replying to the address of the Regina liberal association, the Hon. A. G. Blair, minister of railways, said that the first problem confronting him in his department was the projected construction of a large railway. He had come out to see the country, to get acquainted with conditions, and to ascertain public opinion on the question. He believed it was of more importance to know the people's wishes than to know the wishes of men who have charters and have already a large railway system. He said: I feel that the time has come for a new departure in the principle of railway building in Canada,—for the adoption of a principle founded on the true interest of the people, who have to pay for railway building. In any case their interest alone is to be considered in plans and methods of railway construction. He would cast no reflection upon any existing corporation. Men are alike. They do not do business for their health. If the Angel Gabriel came down and organized a railway company of angels and became possessed of a railway monopoly, in all probability there would soon be grounds of complaint against the rates. We cannot blame the companies. We have got to go back to the plan on which a railway was initiated to find the fault. We have got to go to the basis; for no matter how admirable is the superstructure, if the basis is not sound the superstructure must sooner or later fall. The people must not be made tributary or subsidiary to private corporations. He said the Canadian transcontinental highway should have been the property and under the entire control of the people of Canada, and then the rates upon it could have been placed upon a standard to allow settlers to make progress and develop the new country; because upon the progress of the West depends the future of the East, and therefore of the whole of Canada. He realized that rates had been such that progress had been retarded. It was not the fault of the corporation. The corporation was asked to put the railway through—if they would only put the railway through they could have practically their own price. The people are now paying the price. The people professed to be helpless. They sought the aid of the corporation. It is not the corporation that is to be condemned—it is the government of that day, which means the people themselves. The hon. minister said he had never sympathized with a cry that had been made, sometimes by liberals, that deficits upon a government railway proved mismanagement, or proved that the railway was a loss to the country as a whole. He declared that it was not at all necessary because a government owned a railway that such a railway should entail no burden upon the treasury. The country might gain five or ten fold advantage by operating a railway at a loss. No man can assert what measure of retardment has been due to the fact that there is no practical public control over the transcontinental highway. All I want to know, said he, is that a line is necessary in the interest of the country; if it is necessary, then the country can stand the loss, if any, imposed by having rates charged upon it that will not burden the trade of the country, that will not fetter commercial and industrial development, that will not retard the country's progress and growth. We follow that principle in our system of canals, continued Mr. Blair, and no one disputes that the cost entailed is entirely overshadowed by the indirect advantage reaped by the people by the cheaper movement of their traffic. In this matter he said he was giving his individual opinion. He was confident that Mr. Laurier's government would exhibit a broad and enlightened statesmanship which would not shrink a duty when indicated in the interest of the country. He promised that he would propound in council the railway policy he had outlined, and if it secured the approval of his colleagues, he believed it would be like the bread cast upon the waters—the return would surely come with manifold advantage.

Regarding immigration he said that from all he had heard, he had the utmost confidence that the immigration problem was in capable hands. His own idea was against outside expenditures upon immigration. Attention should be devoted to the people we have. Make them well satisfied, and we will not only hold our natural increase, which we have not been doing, but will soon find an increasing immigration coming from outside, induced by reports of prosperity in Canada.

MANAWAN.

A Christmas tree entertainment was given in Manawan public school house on Christmas eve. This was the first entertainment of the kind in the settlement and was well attended and successful. Miss Thorpe, teacher of the school, Miss Butty, the Misses Bibbee and Messrs. Hughson, Hall and Lang took part. Rev. J. A. Dean, of Victoria, presided as chairman. At the conclusion of an excellent programme, bountiful refreshments were served and the presents distributed.

Miss Thorpe, who has been teaching Manawan school, has gone to Edmonton to attend the normal school. Miss Butty will conduct the school during her absence.

Victoria school held a successful examination on Dec. 23rd, conducted by Miss Miller, who is leaving Victoria. Miss Martin, of Wetaskiwin, will take Miss Miller's place for a time.

John Howe arrived from Aylmer, Ont., on Monday, December 28th. He will take a normal course in Edmonton, after which he is under engagement to teach the Victoria school.

L. Thompson, of Victoria, who has been ill most of the winter, is recovering.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN.

On Sunday the dedication service of St. George's parish church was held by the bishop of Calgary, the Right Reverend Cyprian Pinkham, D. D. D. C. L. There were also present the clergy the Rev. H. A. Gray, B. A., of South Edmonton; the Rev. R. Connele, of Beaver lake, and the Rev. G. C. d'Easum, priest in charge. The church was crowded, the settlers in the adjoining district for 15 miles around thus showing their interest in the solemn opening of the mother church in this settlement. The service was musical throughout, and the singing most hearty, ably led by the capital choir. Mr. Gray intoned the first part of the service, after which followed the prayers of dedication, offered by the bishop. His Lordship also preached, showing that from earliest times men have felt the necessity and suitability of building houses for the worship of God, to set them apart from profane or ordinary uses. The bishop also congratulated the people on their beautiful church, saying he was most agreeably surprised to find such a nice commodious building. Then followed a celebration of the holy communion in which the bishop was celebrant, assisted by the Rev. G. d'Easum. In the evening Rev. R. Connele preached to another large congregation, showing the true idea of the Christian church.

Large numbers of various denominations were present at both services, and expressed their great pleasure and interest in the solemn, reverent and beautiful services of the Anglican branch of the Catholic church. It is to be hoped the dedication of our little church will mark a fresh era of spiritual influence in Fort Saskatchewan.

NORTH STURGEON.

A large number of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes friends, of Namoo, gathered recently at Mr. Maxfield's and from there proceeded to the residence of the Rev. A. Forbes, where a grand surprise was given to them. A very enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Brown's recitation entitled "donation" was quite worthy of comment. At a late hour they left for their homes wishing the host and hostess a Happy New Year and many of them.

An entertainment was held last night at the residence of A. E. Putnam in aid of a new Methodist church which they are building in their vicinity.

Earnest and John Payzant left this morning with their hay press for South Edmonton where they have a contract of pressing hay.

J. S. Stewart, of Namoo, visited our settlement on Monday last.

Plato school house is about completed. The trustees have engaged Miss Stewart, of Brampton, Ont., who will open school on Jan. 11th.

C. Cruthers is celebrating the arrival of a son at his house, Dec. 22.

The Excelsior school district have engaged the service of Miss Barry, of Assiniboia, to commence school shortly.

PIGEON LAKE FISH.

The fisheries department has decided to continue the issue of fishing licenses at Pigeon Lake as usual. The privilege was withdrawn by order-in-council in June last, the intention being to allow only the Indians of Hobbema agency to have the benefit of the fish in the lake. This was only one of the vagaries of the late government in its administration of Northwest affairs. The idea of cutting off from the settlers living adjacent to a fishing lake the privilege of fishing in it for the benefit of Indians said to be self-supporting, living forty miles away, is about on a par with the general administration of that government regarding the western settler.

"AN EXPLODED IDEE."

Free Press: "It has been the custom to say that the interests of the Northwest and of the Canadian Pacific Company are identical; that their fortunes are mutually dependent; that whatever benefits one will necessarily benefit the other."

FORT SASKATCHEWAN ITEM.

Last week a rather unique company visited us from the Sturgeon. The object was to surprise our friends at the manse, and they succeeded. To judge from the appearance and sound of things, they well might possess the house for an hour or two. But they evidently came with the best intentions for they took their departure decently and in order within "elder's" hours. We hope we shall see our friends again.

RAILWAY POLICY.

Speaking at Kamloops on the railway policy of the government for British Columbia Hon. A. G. Blair said that his mission, as minister of railways, had been more particularly to look into the needs of this Province in the matter of railroad extension, and especially the feasibility of the proposed Crow's Nest Pass railway. What he had seen had convinced him of the necessity of railroad extension. It was in the interest not only of British Columbia but of the whole of Canada that this question should be taken up as soon as possible. He felt that the east was as keenly interested in the opening up of British Columbia as were the residents of the province themselves. British Columbia's prosperity must be returned to the advantage of the east. Mr. Blair proceeded to criticize in very plain language the land-grab perpetrated by the British Columbia Southern, and he as plainly intimated that the Provincial government had been grievously at fault in permitting such an act. In his opinion the control of this land and its mineral and timber resources by a private corporation was a menace to the prosperity of the province. If this company, or any other into which it might be merged, secured the control of the proposed railroad, with the land it possesses and its wealth of coal and timber, a power would be created greater than the people themselves. His advice to the people was: Hold on to your land. Do not part with the valuable assets nature has showered upon you. Don't hand over to any monopolistic corporation the sources of your wealth, or in very short order you will become but hewers of wood and drawers of water for the few to whom you have entrusted your wealth. It would be his duty, he said to stand between the people and any such corporations, and to prevent the happening of so grave a calamity as the one he had depicted. The Crow's Nest Pass railway and its extension to the coast should be under the control of the people, with the power to impose rates and authority to regulate its management. Happily for the country the road cannot be built without the substantial pecuniary aid of the government, and that aid would not be forthcoming unless the people's rights were properly safeguarded. The government can and will insist upon, as a condition of assistance, the release from their grip of the tremendous monopolistic powers entailed upon those who have secured the 15,000,000 acres of land, with its wealth of coal and timber, with the charter for the construction of the British Columbia Southern. Freed from monopolistic greed, with fair freight rates and easy means of egress, several great cities, from half a dozen to a dozen, may be looked for in this province before many years have elapsed.

THE REASON.

Regina Leader: "When I reached the Kootenay country, I felt as if released from jail," said a member of the Northwest Legislature to a group of listeners a few weeks ago. "I had then escaped the clutches of the C. P. R. For twelve years I tried to do business for myself in the Territories, but all the time I was doing it for the C. P. R. When I shipped a car, the freight rate was the difference between the cost of the car to me and the worth of the car at the other end. It was useless to refuse the C. P. R. the information they wanted;—until I told them, I could not get a rate that would allow me to ship at all. In the Kootenay I can draw free breath. The tyranny of the C. P. R. changed me from a Tory into a Grit," continued this gentleman, "but if the Laurier government panders to the C. P. R. it will never get another vote of mine."

The Difference

... BETWEEN ...

Old and Present

... TIMES ...

It is mentioned in the Bible that old Jacob had made for his son Joseph a Silk Suit, of which his brothers became jealous. Now-a-days it is different. Suppose a man should tell you what a big reduction he got on his outfit of clothing when he had purchased for Xmas from Sigler & Cristall, you need not get jealous, but call in and we will satisfy you also, as:
